EPF ENHANCES i-INVEST PORTAL WITH NEW FEATURES FOR MAKING INFORMED DECISIONS

FRIDAY JUN 17, 2022 Invest | 17

The Employees Provident Fund (EPF) has rolled out new features and tools on the i-Invest web portal to improve user experience. Various web features of i-Invest such as transactional functions, suitability assessment and useful information on approved unit trust funds, and the fund management institutions (FMIs) offering them, are now available on the i-Akaun mobile application, with additional features to be added in the coming months. In an effort to help members make more informed decisions, the EPF has introduced the Historical Investment Performance Dashboard to enable members to analyse investment performance returns across various time horizons. This new feature, which is the first of its kind in the domestic fund management industry, provides a display of investment returns based on three key categories to enable comparisons to be made at the fund level, FMI level and overall portfolio level. The EPF has also introduced an investment simulator as a tool to help members assess investment decisions based on five key parameters. Investment objectives can now be simulated based on a member's choice of the initial investment amount, monthly investment amount, investment period, rate of return or ending investment value. The enhanced i-Invest portal has also incorporated Lipper-assigned benchmarks for members to compare against the unit trust funds' performances. The i-Invest portal, which was launched in August 2019, offers a wide range of functions, flexibility and convenience for members to conduct investment decisions, as well as monitor their investments at any time and from anywhere. Through this facility, members can compare between unit trust funds offered by the FMIs and obtain a consolidated view of their investment holdings, information on investment costs, fund performance history, as well as statutory information related to the FMIs. The EPF said it will continue to ensure that the i-Invest portal is improved from time to time for the benefit of its members and invites feedback on the portal via the link at https://cms.kwsp.gov.my/survey/ surveyfront/index?sid=54

RECOVERY ON THE HORIZON FOR MALAYSIAN ECONOMY, BUT CHALLENGES REMAIN – BURSA CHAIRMAN

According to Bursa Malaysia chairman Tan Sri Abdul Wahid Omar, Malaysia must be clear-eyed about the challenges on the horizon despite being fortified by sound economic fundamentals and the economy on its way to a recovery after turning the corner against the pandemic. Speaking at the Malaysian Economic Summit 2022 organised by the KSI Strategic Institute for Asia Pacific, he said there were a number of factors to be optimistic about the country's growth outlook and most importantly, it was transitioning to the endemic phase with the relaxation of pandemic control measures and reopening of international borders. The endemic phase is likely to contribute to the revival of Malaysia's tourism industry which supports 3.5 million jobs. The high vaccination rate with close to 80 per cent of the population being vaccinated with two doses is another important factor. This compares favourably against Asean's rate of 60 per cent. A sound government policy has provided economic relief and support for the people and businesses, including employment incentives, cash transfers and subsidies, which resulted in a significant decline in the unemployment rate from a peak of 5.3 per cent in May 2020 to 4.1 per cent in May 2022. Being also chairman of Economic Club of Kuala Lumpur (ECKL) Advisory Council, he said that Bank Negara Malaysia has forecast that Malaysia's economic growth to be between 5.3 per cent and 6.3 per cent in 2022 while the World Bank projected the economy to grow by 5.5 per cent. However, it is important to note that these forecasts have been downgraded, underscoring the uncertainties within and beyond the country. If there is upside, there will be downside and we must consider domestic and global challenges that will affect the Malaysian economy. Geopolitical risks threatened Malaysia's recovery whereby the conflict in Ukraine and the economic sanctions on Russia have created uncertainties and they had exacerbated the supply shocks in commodities such as crude oil, natural gas, wheat and sunflower oil, hence, driven up the prices of food commodities. Malaysia also had to contend with these inflationary pressures where the annual Consumer Price Index went from -1.2 per cent in 2020 to 2.5 per cent in 2021. The inflation rate will continue to rise this year and has been driven by significant increases in transportation and food costs. Food prices have increased between 3.6 per cent and 4.0 per cent in the first quarter of this year. Fortunately, the government's fuel subsidy has kept a lid on further increases on fuel cost. However, the fuel subsidy is a double-edged sword because while it keeps inflation down, the government's fiscal space will shrink. Another major domestic issue is the political uncertainties that have afflicted the country since the last general election. The economic boost from the transition to the endemic phase may be neutralised by the adverse global developments such as the conflict in Ukraine, China's Covid-19 lockdown and the inflationary pressures. Therefore, the short-term goal of economic stabilisation should focus on supporting domestic demand and addressing the impact of imported inflation from weaker exchange rates and higher fuel prices. He was cautiously optimistic that Malaysia will be able to overcome these challenges if Malaysians were to come together, be constructive and do what we can in our respective roles since the country has weathered similar crises in the past. Obviously, there were different factors that will require different sets of solutions which means we cannot rest our laurels and must be persistent and focused.

ilemma – How many rate hikes can the US economy take to tame inflationary pressure but without taking the economy into a recession? Stuck between a rock and a hard place, the US Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC), which met this week, raised the Fed Fund Rate (FFR) by 75bps to 1.5%-1.75% as the red-hot inflation prints forced the Fed's hands to be more aggressive. At the same time, the Fed also revised its dot-plot chart and now calls for the US FFR to hit 3.375%, the mid-range of the 3.25%-3.5% FFR by the end of the year, before rising to 3.75% by the end of 2023. In effect, the Fed is looking at another 175bps for the remaining four scheduled FOMC meetings for this year and another 25-50bps hike in 2023. The Fed also guided that the July rate hike to be between 50-75bps, before easing the pace of increase in the subsequent FOMC meetings.

In economic data projections, the Fed raised its inflation outlook with Consumer Price Index (CPI) now forecasted at 5.2% against 4.3% predicted in March. However, the Fed believes that inflation will be contained next year and thereafter and hence cut its 2023 and 2024 inflation forecast to 2.6% and 2.2% from 2.7% and 2.3% respectively. The Fed also revised GDP growth estimates this year to just 1.7% from 2.8% estimated earlier while the forecast for 2023 and 2024 was revised down to 1.7% and 1.9% from the previous estimate of 2.2% and 2.0% respectively made in March 2022.

ECONOMY

Out of the US, the May inflation data came in higher than expected as the headline and core CPI surged 8.6% and 6.0% y-o-y, ahead of the market estimate of 8.3% and 5.9% gain respectively. The May inflation data was the highest reading since December 1981. Meanwhile, US consumer sentiment collapsed as the preliminary University of Michigan Consumer Sentiment Index for June fell to just 50.2 from 58.4 in May. In other news, the May Producers Price Index (PPI) came in marginally better than expected, rising by 10.8% y-o-y against the consensus expectations of a 10.9% increase. In other news, the May Retail Sales data was weak with a contraction of 0.3% m-o-m against the market estimate of a 0.1% increase.

However, inflation data out of China is less of a worry for now as the May CPI rose by 2.1% y-o-y, unchanged from the preceding month, while the PPI saw a smaller y-o-y increase of 6.4% in May against the 8% print in April. Other economic data out of China were stronger, coming in ahead of expectations. Retail Sales fell by 6.7% y-o-y, which was better than the forecast of a 7.1% contraction, Industrial Production improved by 0.7% y-o-y against a forecast of a 0.7% drop while the cumulative Fixed Asset Investments increased by 6.2% y-o-y compared with the consensus estimate of a 6% gain.

Joining the rate hike cohort among global central banks, the Swiss National Bank (SNB) raised its benchmark interest rates by 50bps to -0.25% – the first time since 2007 that the SNB has raised rates, while Hong Kong Monetary Authority moved rates 75bsp to 2.00%, mirroring the Fed's move to maintain the HK Dollar currency peg with the US Dollars.

Locally, the April Industrial Production Index (IPI) increased at a modest pace of 4.6% y-o-y, slower than the preceding month's increase of 5.0% as the Manufacturing Index rose by 6.2% y-o-y while the Electricity Index gained 1.5% y-o-y but the Mining Index contracted 0.1% y-o-y. Meanwhile, Malaysia's Manufacturing Sales expanded by 13.2% y-o-y to hit RM147.9bil in April, mainly driven by a 21.9% y-o-y increase in the Electrical and Electronics sector, while the Food, Beverage, and Tobacco sector jumped 14.9% y-o-y.

In other news, Malaysia's palm oil stocks for May fell by 7.4% m-o-m and 3.0% y-o-y to 1.52mil metric tonnes (MT) as production was little changed on a month-to-month basis. Due to the ban on palm oil by Indonesia, Malaysia benefited from a higher off-take as exports increased by 26.7% m-o-m and 7.1% y-o-y to reach 1.36mil MT. For the first five months of 2022, Malaysia's crude palm oil production is down by 0.5% y-o-y to 6.72mil MT, while exports have improved by 5.9% to 5.98mil MT. For the automotive sector, the government is said to be considering extending the 6% Sales and Service Tax (SST) exemption by another six months as the current tax exemption is set to expire at the end of June, although such a move may cost the government as much as RM2.5bil.

Meanwhile, according to the Malaysian Investment Development Authority, total approved investments for the 1Q of 2022 fell by 46.9% to RM42.8bil involving some 910 projects. 70.1% of the total approval was related to the manufacturing sector, while the services sector accounted for 29.7%. Some 65% or RM27.8bil of the approved investments were Foreign Direct Investments (FDI) while domestic direct investments stood at RM15bil or 35% of the total. In other news, Malaysia's ranking in the 2022 International Institute for Management Development (IMD) World Competitiveness Ranking dropped seven notches to 32nd from 25th in the preceding year. Neighbours, Thailand and Indonesia too fell in their ranking to 33rd and 44th from 28th and 37th previously, while Singapore improved to the 3rd globally from the 5th position in 2021.

CORPORATE

In contract news, Coastal Contracts won a charter contract for a vessel and the extension of an existing charter contract worth RM252mil. Nestcon has accepted a letter of award from Nescaya Etika SB to undertake the construction and completion of the main building and infrastructure works of a 38-storey building in Kuala Lumpur valued at RM118mil. GFM Services won a RM367.2mil 5-year contract from the Jabatan Kerja Raya to provide facilities management services for Istana Negara, Kuala Lumpur, while Kelington Group won a RM114 million contract to build a semiconductor manufacturing building in Johor.

FRIDAY JUN 17, 2022 Invest | 25

In other corporate news, Cahya Mata Sarawak (CMS) agreed to dispose of its entire 25% stake in OM Materials (Sarawak) and OM Materials (Samalaju) to OM Materials (S) Pte Ltd for US$120mil or RM526.6mil. CMS is expected to recognize a gain on disposal amounting to RM149mil or 13.9 sen per share from the sale of the two associated companies. Meanwhile, CTOS Digital, which owns a 19.23% stake in RAM Holdings, is expected to make a general offer to acquire the remaining shares it does not already own to raise its stake in the credit rating agency.

EQUITY

Despite the rebound on Wednesday after the Fed raised benchmark rates by 75bps, the US markets were major casualties this week as the three main indices fell by between 6.8% and 8.2%. Except for a 1.4% gain on the Shanghai Composite Index, the rest of the global markets were in the sea of red the past week with losses ranging from 1.8% to 6.9% on the S&P BSE SENSEX Index. Over on Bursa Malaysia, the market closed well below the 1,500 mark as the KLCI fell by another 36.94 pts or 2.4% to close at 1,472.77 pts. For the week ended June 15, local institutions and retail market participants sustained their net buying interest with a higher net inflow of RM381.8mil and RM290.5mil respectively, while foreigners' net selling pressure intensified with an outflow of RM672.3mil.

IS THERE LIFE AFTER PN17?

Devanesan Evanson

Chief Executive Officer, Minority Shareholders Watch Group

n view of the stigma attached to it, the first question that probably crosses the mind of minority shareholders whose counters have triggered the Practice Note 17 (PN17) criteria is whether to take a cut-loss route, to average down or to continue holding on to the stock in anticipation of a share price rebound. Majority of the PN17 companies tend to be companies with poor fundamentals or are speculative in nature. Upon proper scrutiny, more often than not, these companies are usually poorly managed or do not have good track records. Based on the criteria of triggering PN17 classification, it can be deduced that majority of the affected companies would have earlier reported massive losses. This will also be evident from the statutory audit of their annual financial statements by appointed external auditors. In certain cases, these losses are due to impairments carried out on certain assets. This includes trade receivables, inventories, or even assets or investments carried in the books which perhaps do not reflect the current economic value or are unrecoverable (Source: Pankaj C. Kumar,

"Is PN17 an End-Game?", StarBiz, 5 February 2022). Having said that, operation-wise, a company, too, could fall into PN17 if losses in a given year are so huge that it could impact the shareholders' equity and trigger the Para 2.1(a) of PN17 or GN3 as the case may be. Moreover, auditors can also be instrumental in determining the trigger points as both Para 2.1(d) and Para 2.1(e) of PN17 and Para 2.1(f) and Para 2.1(g) of GN3 are related to the opinion of the auditor on the financial statements that are presented.

TRIGGERING PN17 CLASSIFICATION

According to Bursa Malaysia Securities Bhd's latest revision of Criteria and Obligations of PN17 Issuers (latest revision on 1 January 2022), PN17 is accorded to listed issuers who trigger any one or more of the following six criteria:

- Shareholders' equity on a consolidated basis is 25% or less of the share capital & is less than RM40 million
- Receivers/managers have been appointed over the asset of the listed issuer/its subsidiary/associated company which asset accounts for at least 50% of the total assets employed on a consolidated basis
- A winding up of a listed issuer's subsidiary/associated company which accounts for at least 50% of the total assets employed on a consolidated basis
- The auditors have expressed an adverse or disclaimer opinion in the listed issuer's latest audited financial statements
- The auditors have highlighted a material uncertainty related to going concern or expressed a qualification on the listed issuer's ability to continue as a going concern in the company's latest audited financial statements and the shareholders' equity on a consolidated basis is 50% or less of share capital of the listed issuer

 A default in payment by a listed issuer, its major subsidiary/major associated company as announced by the company pursuant to Para 9.19A of the Listing Requirements and the listed issuer is unable to provide a solvency declaration to the exchange

ESCAPE ROUTE FOR THE MINORITY SHAREHOLDERS

Interestingly, some investors are unaware that they are holding on to counters that have been classified under PN17 out of their own ignorance, i.e., their failure to keep track of the companies' they invest in. Worse still, some investors do not even notice that these companies have been delisted. Perhaps this is what distinguishes an informed investor from an ordinary investor. The former will keep tabs on the performance of their stock. Once they discover that the companies' they have invested in are experiencing declining performance or showing early signs of financial difficulties, they will tend to make quick decisions. Usually, they will cut their losses. Unfortunately, most investors believe that "what comes down will go up again one day" (in contrast to "what goes up will come down"). Eventually when they are motivated enough to cut losses, the companies are at the point of no return and on the brink of being delisted. Especially during the current challenging times, investors must ensure that they conduct pulsechecks on their investments more frequently than during boom time. A full medical check-up will be better. In times of economic uncertainties, blue chip stocks tend to better weather stock market turbulence compared to their low-liner counterparts simply because they are more likely to be better managed or have ample cash flow to keep them afloat - the so called war chest. Adding to this risk of business survival is the unbecoming trend of some business owners getting less committed to salvaging their business when they find their companies labelled as PN 17. They might easily give up their businesses after encountering some financial distress. If they discover that the loans amount is higher than the value of their assets – or if they foresee little prospect of recovery – they have no qualm of giving up their business by letting their companies fall into PN17 and eventually go bankrupt. Some indulge in insider trading and exit at higher prices earlier – well before the company is delisted or wound up. Then there is this Cockroach Theory whereby when a company announces some bad news to the public – i.e., a default in loan repayments, accounting issues or a delay in releasing their financial results – there are likely to be more bad news in the pipeline. The analogy is that when we come across one cockroach in our cabinet, there tends to be many more cockroaches hiding at the back of that cabinet. Even if some companies deserved to be credited for endeavouring to escape the PN17 stranglehold by giving their utmost best to regularise their businesses, not all business owners have the stamina to truly mount a rescue mission. The search for a white knight can entail countless hours of 'humiliating' negotiations. Even if PN17 companies managed to rope in a white knight, the submission, approval, and eventual implementation of the regularisation plans would likely take years to complete.

Set against such harsh reality, minority shareholders should decide whether to cut losses, average down or simply hold on to their PN17 stock.
