INFLATION COULD PUSH PROPERTY PRICES UP BY DOUBLE-DIGIT -REHDA

FRIDAY FEB 24 2023 Invest 120

A coording to Real Estate and Housing Developers' Association Malaysia (REHDA) president Datuk NK Tong, inflation and a higher cost of doing business are likely to push property prices up by double-digit this year. On average it will be a double-digit increase in property prices but in the past six months the anticipated price increase has not materialised. This is also reflected in the moderation of construction materials' prices.

Speaking at the Rehda Property Industry Survey 2H2022 and Market Outlook for 2023 media briefing, he said that globally we have been in 40 years of inflationary environment and that it will remain inflationary for a while. That is why there is no choice but to consider price increases. This is also to protect the homeowners whom developers are selling these units to. This is to make sure the developers have enough revenue to complete the project.

MARKET SENTIMENTS

According to Rehda's survey, three out of four developers surveyed reported an average increase of 13% in the overall cost of doing business against an average increase of 17% in 1H2022. Meanwhile, 94% of respondents said they are affected by the current economic scenario, and have taken various cost-cutting measures including freezing recruitment, reducing salary, rescheduling the launch of planned projects and reducing the scale of launches.

"Similar to 1H2022, respondents reported that the three main cost components affecting cash flow were material and labour cost, compliance cost (including but not limited to policies, contributions, planning requirements and so forth) and land cost. However, Bank Negara Malaysia is doing a good job in managing inflationary pressure in the country by keeping the overnight policy rate (OPR) relatively stable.

Malaysian interest hikes have been much more moderate. With the economy opening up and the new government being very focused on doing right by the Rakyat, at some point people will have to make a commitment into certain assets that protect themselves against inflation in the long run, one of which will be real estate. An investment in real estate would remain a good hedge against inflation as properties tend to hold better value should inflation remain sticky.

Although the rising OPR may be seen as a headwind, people will eventually recognise that real estate helps protect the value of their assets and to keep up with inflation.

CBP BAN UPLIFTED -AVALUABLE WAKE-UP CALL FOR PLCs TO BE SERIOUS ON ESG

Devanesan Evanson

Chief Executive Officer, Minority Shareholders Watch Group hat the US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) has essentially lifted its Withhold Release Order (WRO) that has prevented palm oil-related products of Sime Darby Plantation Berhad (SDP) from entering the US over the past two years is a victory for the planter and the quest to promote sustainable business model among Malaysian PLCs in general.

Recall that the US CBP had in December 2020 raised the issue of "forced labour" against SDP by slapping the latter with a WRO that essentially prevented the Company's palm oil products from entering the US. The decision was based on sufficient, though not conclusive, information or evidence triggered apparently by a petition sent to US CBP in April 2020 by non-governmental organisation (NGO) Liberty Shared. This lasted till 3 Feb this year when US CBP "modified" the WRO to allow SDP to resume exports of its palm oil products to US.

FRIDAY FEB 24 2023 Invest | 26

Although commercially, the US is a small market for SDP – having accounted for less than 5% of its revenue in FY2021 – the ban has triggered concerns over SDP's ESG image, especially with regard to its ESG rating. With that, SDP's reputation is at stake, with the Company priding itself as the world's largest producer of certified palm oil. Bans and allegations could potentially dent or even nullify such claims.

BEYOND SDP

Swiftly after the ban by CBP, SDP made a slew of changes in its labour practices and standards. The planter also introduced several industry firsts measures as part of its renewed commitments.

Aside from SDP, glove maker YTY Industry Holdings Sdn Bhd and all its subsidiaries also saw some relief when the US CBP issued a modification to its WRO, which then allowed for the resumption of shipments of its single-use gloves into the US. While the group is in the process of notifying US customers of this positive development and to re-establish its long-standing supply relationship with them, it nevertheless acknowledged that the imposition of the WRO by US CBP has strengthened its commitment to uphold international labour standards in the near future.

Earlier on 9 September 2021, the US CBP similarly modified its forced labour finding on Top Glove Corporation Berhad, which would permit the world's largest glove maker to resume the importation of disposable gloves made at Top Glove facilities in Malaysia. In hindsight, Top Glove did recognise that the year-long ban by the US customs authorities on Top Glove's exports to the US has served as a "wake-up call" for the world's largest medical glove maker to avoid similar predicaments in the future. Above all else, its management said the ban was a learning experience that had improved the company's ESG markers in addressing claims of forced labour. The experience has prompted Top Glove to take various initiatives towards addressing forced labour concerns by having upgraded hostel facilities for its migrant workers, who account for a majority of its factory workforce and even promised to compensate them for the fee they paid to employment agents in their home countries.

Other big glovemakers, such as Hartalega Holdings Berhad and Kossan Rubber Industries Berhad have also since taken similar action to refund the fees, which labour activists claim would result in debt bondage.

LESSONS LEARNT

On a bigger scale, the environmental, social and governance (ESG) agenda with key focus on sustainability will continue to be at the fore-front of how SDP and other PLCs conduct their businesses in the future.

Therefore, the social aspect within the ESG spectrum requires economic sectors with heavy reliance on foreign labour, e.g., manufacturing and plantation, to prioritise on two fronts:

- Doing what is morally right for how we treat others reflects who we are as a company and as a nation;
- Investors and stakeholders nowadays are much more conscious about social justice, corporate governance and corporate malpractice; hence addressing their concerns would augur well for a company's profile, top line, bottom line and reputation. More so, investors may choose to shy away from companies that breach ESG practices.
